

BOROUGH OF WATCHUNG

March 8, 2022

Dear Resident:

The Borough is pleased to announce that it is partnering with Hometown Press to publish the 2022 Spring and Fall newsletters apprising residents of various activities, special events and various due dates across the Borough Departments and Commissions. Hometown Press will be working with our local businesses as well as community groups to publicize programs, services, special events and other activities within the Borough. The newsletters will be delivered to all residences – free of charge and at no cost to taxpayers.

To offset the costs of publication, advertisements will be sold on a first come, first served basis. It is our hope that our business community will use the newsletter to advertise their services and any specials they may wish to offer residents.

Hometown Press successfully publishes newsletters for several other communities in South Jersey. The newsletters are of the highest quality and we are happy to team up with Hometown Press to use our newsletters as another means of communicating with our residents.

Questions regarding the newsletters' content can be directed to Dámaris Quiñones-Gray of the Borough Clerk's Office at (908) 756-0080 ext. 211 or email at dgray@watchungnj.gov. Community groups and business owners interested in advertising their upcoming events and or products, may contact Hometown's Sales Person: Peggy Kucipak, at (215)262-3617 or email at Peggy.cbn@gmail.com.

Any such announcements must be submitted in writing two months prior to the publication date (to be announced for the Fall issue). For the inaugural issue, announcements are due by March 31st. The Borough of Watchung reserves the right to control the format and content of any and all submissions.

We welcome your feedback and input on the newsletters and hope you enjoy the 2022 Spring issue.

Very truly yours,

Keith S. Balla
Mayor
